The Mission Theology

Advisory Group (MTAG) is a group of people who wonder about how God works in the world (theology) and who try to join in with what God is doing (mission). We help all kinds of people to do the same. The mission of the Church is the mission of Christ. We can see this when Christians demonstrate these five 'marks' of mission:

Christian theology is the theology of Christian belief and practice. Such study concentrates primarily upon the texts of the Old Testament and of the New Testament, as well as on Christian tradition. Christian theologians use biblical exegesis, rational analysis and argument. Theologians may undertake the study of Christian theology for a variety of reasons, such as in order to:

Theology is exciting. It is about God's word, God's world and God's people. It is vitally important for the church to nurture young Christians into thinking, speaking and writing about God and the world, and it is even more important that the Church listen to their voices.

The grandfather of biblical theology amongst evangelicals, Geerhardus Vos, defined biblical theology this way: "Biblical Theology is that branch of Exegetical Theology which deals with the process of the self-revelation of God deposited in the Bible." 1
So what does that mean?

Many of us first encounter disability theology around questions of access and inclusion in church life, and indeed that is the genesis of this paper. Before long, the many facets of the question become apparent. In practical terms, "disability" encompasses a wide range of life situations, many of which are completely unrelated to each other.
