Introducing a younger cat to a older cat with less energy might cause some problems. If you already have a cat you might have asked yourself "should i get another cat for my older cat?" Although it is best to get cats of similar age, an older cat might enjoy a younger play partner, and even take the younger cat under it's wing (or paw) - almost like an adoptive parent.

CATs are used to give a snapshot of a child's potential, what they could achieve and how they learn best. The results can help teachers to set the right learning pace for each child, monitor their progress and identify areas where they might need extra support. Can I help my child prepare for CATs? Officially, no.

Cats are heavily reliant on scent and will settle much quicker if their new environment smells familiar. To help your cat get used to your scent (and the scent of your new home), take an item of clothing or a blanket from your home and leave it with your pet for the final few days. When you pick them up, place the item in your cat's carrier.
